MASTERCLASS VIOLIN

LECTURER:

At the age of 30 Michael Foyle is already proving to be violinist at great class and elegance on the concert platform. His total commitment to the musical integrity of each score combines with a constant pursuit of beauty of expression, resulting in a powerful communication style that has won over audiences internationally. Praised for playing of 'compelling conviction' (The Daily Telegraph) and performances 'full of sparkling detail, with tonal beauty and incisive rhythmic clarity, balancing wit and poetry' (The Strad), Michael launched his career by winning The Netherlands Violin Competition 2016. His performance of Szymanowski's Violin Concerto No.1 with the Rotterdam Philharmonic Orchestra led to an immediate invitation to give his debut recital in the Concertgebouw, Amsterdam. Alongside his solo career, Michael is violinist of Trio Balthasar and Professor of Violin at the Royal Academy of Music in London (the youngest appointed in the institution's 200-year history) and at the Hochschule für Musik und Tanz in Cologne.
